

WEDNESDAY AT A GLANCE

8	Exhibits Open All Day (Discovery Ballroom) Registration and Continental Breakfast (Heritage Ballroom) Welcome (Heritage Ballroom) David Trout, chairman, Salmon Recovery Funding Board Kaleen Cottingham, director, Recreation and Conservation Office Bill Iyall, chairman, Cowlitz Indian Tribe Jeff Breckel, executive director, Lower Columbia Fish Recovery Board Jim Unsworth, director, Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife Representative Steve Tharinger (D-Dungeness) Keynote Norm Dicks, former U.S. Congressman
10:15	Break
10:30	Hemlock-Oak	Heritage E	Cedar	Heritage F	Spruce	Pine	Ash	Birch
	Reconnecting Floodplains: Side Channels and More	Nearshore Restoration: Not Just Another Day at the Beach	How's that Working? Effectiveness Monitoring of Restoration Projects	Integrated Management: There's More to Salmon Recovery than Salmon	Fish Passage: Getting Around It	Regional Monitoring and Adaptive Management Panel	Project Management and Planning: Measure Twice, Cut Once	Innovative Partnerships: Farms, Fish, and the Future
12:30	Break
12:45	Lunch and Keynotes (Heritage Ballroom) Phil Rockefeller, member, Northwest Power and Conservation Council Ron Judd, columnist, Seattle Times
1:30	Panel (Heritage Ballroom) Our Story Thus Far: Perspectives on the History of Salmon Recovery and H-integration Hosted by Phil Anderson, former director of the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife Panelists Irene Martin, Salmon for All Sara LaBorde, Wild Salmon Center Phil Rigdon, Confederated Tribes and Bands of the Yakama Nation David Trout, Nisqually Indian Tribe James C. Waldo, Gordon Thomas Honeywell LLP
2:30	Break
2:45	Hemlock-Oak	Heritage E	Cedar	Heritage F	Spruce	Pine	Ash	Birch
	Reconnecting Floodplains: Get Back to Where You Once Belonged	Estuary Reconnection: Worth its Salt	Intensively Monitored Watersheds: What We're Learning	Evolution of Hatchery and Harvest Practices in Advancing Recovery	Fish Passage: Water Under the Bridge	Recovery Planning in Different Settings	Project Management and Planning: Organize, Don't Agonize	Innovative Partnerships: Whose Water?
4:45	Networking and Free Time
6	Dinner and Keynote (Heritage Ballroom) Steelhead: Fish of a Thousand Faces John McMillan, Trout Unlimited

THURSDAY AT A GLANCE

8:15	Exhibits Open All Day (Discovery Ballroom) Registration and Continental Breakfast (Heritage Ballroom)
	Welcome David Troutt, chairman, Salmon Recovery Funding Board Kaleen Cottingham, director, Recreation and Conservation Office Jacques White, executive director, Long Live the Kings
9	Panel (Heritage Ballroom) Climate Change and the Future of Salmon in the Northwest Hosted by John Stein, director, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration's (NOAA) Northwest Fisheries Science Center Panelists Guillaume Mauger, University of Washington Climate Impacts Group Tim Beechie, NOAA Northwest Fisheries Science Center Michelle McClure, NOAA Northwest Fisheries Science Center
10	Break
10:15	Hemlock-Oak	Heritage E	Cedar	Heritage F	Spruce	Pine	Ash	Birch
	Large Scale Floodplain Projects: Reaches and Basins	Estuary Restoration: The Tide Waits for No One	Salish Sea Marine Survival Project 1	Evolution of Hatchery and Harvest Practices in Advancing Recovery 2	Fish Passage: Can't Cross the Same River Twice	Data Analysis and Prioritization Tools: Something Old, Something New	Managing Salmon Recovery in a Changing Climate	Innovative Partnerships: Infrastructure Insights
12:15	Break
12:30	Lunch and Keynote (Heritage Ballroom) Bill Bradbury, Northwest Power and Conservation Council, former Oregon Secretary of State
1:45	Break
2	Hemlock-Oak	Heritage E	Cedar	Heritage F	Spruce	Pine	Ash	Birch
	Floodplains: In-stream Projects	Planning, Constructing, and Monitoring Outcomes: Reviewing the Full Arch of Estuary Restoration	Salish Sea Marine Survival Project 2	Emerging Science from the Washington Department of Fish and Wildlife	Fish Passage Projects: And the Salmon Sing	Data Analysis and Prioritization Tools: Something Borrowed, Something Blue	Storytelling for Salmon Recovery	What We Talk About When We Talk About Partnerships
4	Break
4:15	Poster Session (Outside Discovery Ballroom) No-host Happy Hour
5:30	Dinner on Own
6:30	Long Live the Kings Film Night (Kiggins Theatre, Vancouver) Return of the River, three short films, and a raffle! Admission is free. Pick up a ticket at the Long Live the Kings booth in the Exhibit Hall Pizza, beer, and other beverages available for purchase at the theatre.

FRIDAY AT A GLANCE

8	Exhibitors Open until Noon (Discovery Ballroom)
	Registration Open until 9:30 A.M. (Heritage Ballroom)
	Breakfast
	Welcome David Troutt, chairman, Salmon Recovery Funding Board Kaleen Cottingham, director, Recreation and Conservation Office
9	Keynote Will Stelle, regional administrator, NOAA
	Break
	Hemlock-Oak	Heritage E	Cedar	Heritage F	Spruce	Pine	Ash	Birch
	Habitat Complexity: It's Complicated	Floodplains by Design	Orca and Salmon Recovery Workshop	Working with Beavers to Restore Habitat for Salmonids	Show Me the Money: Financing Projects	Setting Long-term Goals for Columbia Basin and Steelhead	Social Marketing: Bait a Hook	Data Selfies: The How and Why of Data
11:45	Conference Wrap-Up (Heritage Ballroom)							